"Bob and Boodle are opponents of the Democracy in the Eight Congressional District.

WHAT has the Commercial Gazette against the Hamilton Co. delegation to the Republican State Convention.

Truth Crushed to Earth.

Here in Ohio we have seen political crimes committed, so bold, brazen and infamous that when exposed, the public sense was appalled at their enormity.—Noyes at Republican Convention.

How true! We have seen a minority of the Ohio Senate, aided and counseled by yourself, overlook all constitutional limits, and assisted by the partisan rulings of your willing tool Bob Kennedy, declare the seats of four Senators vacant, and in their stead seat four persons who were not elected. And all the time you assisted in the fraud by all the arts in your power. No wonder the "public sense was appalled at their enormity."

The outraged people are sitting in judgment upon you and your gang and the "Ides" of November will convince you that the people of Ohio do not desire revolution even for the sake of the G. O. P.

Earthquakes in the United States.

Fortunately for that portion of the world comprising the United States of America, our knowledge of that dread phenomenon of nature, known as earthquakes, has been derived from the history of such occurrences in the countries of the volcanic regions in both hemispheres. These phenomena are of comparatively rare occurrence in this country although several of disastrous force have occurred. The most important perhaps was that of 1811. The central point of violence during this earthquake was thought to be near Little Prairie, or New Madrid a town on the Mississippi river below St. Louis. It extended from the mouth of the Ohio to that of St. Francis, a region about 300 miles long and of varying width. The first and most severe shock was felt Dec. 16, 1811, and was repeated at intervals with decreasing force until the middle of Feb. 1812. During this time the earth rose and fell in great undulations, lakes were formed and again drained. The water in the Mississippi river rose five or six feet in as many minutes, from the raising of the bottom the ground cracked and the cracks again closed.

Much property was destroyed and the force of the shock was plainly felt along the shores of the Atlantic.

San Francisco was visited by a destructive earthquake in 1865 and another still more destructive in 1868, which rendered many of the most substantial buildings unsafe, the ground in many instances sinking so as to throw the building out of line and cracking the walls. Considerable loss of life was caused by falling debris. The shock extended along the Pacific coast from Oregon to Mexico. A very perceptible and peculiar difference existed between the earthquakes of 1865 and that of 1868. In the former the oscillations were vertical, while in the latter they were horizontal, in which peculiarity, that of August 31 appear to have been similar.

The recent shaking was the most disastrous calamity considering the loss of life, that has ever visited our shores, and it is to be sincerely hoped we may never again be visited by such a disastrous dispensation of Providence.

JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

Judge Silas H. Wright Nominated by Acclamation.

The Democracy of the first subdivision of the Seventh Judicial District, composed of the counties of Fairfield, Hocking and Perry, met at Logan on Tuesday Sept. 7th, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Common Pleas Judge.

WAR!

An unfortunate conflict occurred on last Thursday between two respectable farmers and their sons living in Green Township. It seems that there has been an ill feeling between the parties for some time.

Last fall John Cook procured the Township Trustees to grant him a road across a small corner of the lands of his neighbor Jesse Roby. On Thursday Cook and his seventeen year old son went to work to open the road. They were met there by Roby and his son a large full grown man, the father being armed with an iron "square" and the son with a double bitted axe. Roby began the old dispute about the road, using aggravating language toward Cook. Cook ordered him repeatedly to leave, which he refused to do. In a short time young Roby began making demonstrations on Cook with the axe and shortly the whole party got in their work about as follows:

Roby struck Cook with the square, Cook answered with a club, the blow taking effect across Roby's shoulders, then young Roby struck Cook two heavy blows in the back of the head with the flat part of his axe. At this, young Cook struck young Roby in the back with his mattock, thereupon, Roby Sr., opened fire on the boys head with his square, the boy retreated a suitable distance picked up a stone and threw it at Roby. Here the ladies of the Cook family came out and were successful in preventing further hostilities.

At this writing the wounds of the Cooks are not thought to be dangerous, the extent of the injuries on the other side have not yet reached us.

The Patent Fence 'Racket.'

A number of our well-to-do farmers in this county have been swindled by sharpers on some kind of a patent fence scheme.

The scheme is to get a man to permit the party to put up a section of the fence on his farm to show what the fence is, and get the farmer to give his address, so that it can be shipped to him. The address turns out to be a contract and then the farmer is induced by argument, if possible, or by threats of prosecution in the United States Courts, or otherwise persuaded to give his note. If the farmers would set the big dog on men who approach them with this and similar "rackets," or take the shot-gun in hand, these fellows would soon make themselves scarce. But these frauds will continue as long as people have more confidence in the smooth-tongued swindler, than in the law and courts, and their own God-given right of self-protection. We believe that in three cases out of five these tricks are worked on men who boast that they know nothing about the laws and do not wish to. "He that won't hear must feel," is as true now as ever.
